

The diagram consists of a horizontal line. From the center of this line, a vertical line segment extends upwards. From the top of this vertical segment, a horizontal line segment extends to the right.

